

FIRE CABINET DESIGNS THAT STAND READY WHEN IT MATTERS

Fire safety equipment deserves proper protection, and that protection starts with the right fire cabinet.

 sales@fspozproducts.com.au

 www.fspaaustralia.com.au

Fire safety equipment deserves proper protection, and that protection starts with the right fire cabinet. FSP Oz Products supplies cabinets built to house hose reels, extinguishers and fire equipment in commercial, industrial and public settings across Australia. Every unit is designed for strength, clear visibility and reliable access during critical moments.

Install a Fire Cabinet Built for Demanding Conditions

A fire cabinet must do its job without complication. FSP Oz Products manufactures cabinets using heavy duty materials suited to harsh environments, including coastal regions and high traffic facilities. Clean lines and solid construction allow each cabinet to sit neatly against walls while keeping equipment secure and easy to locate.

The range supports surface mounted and recessed applications, giving builders and facility managers flexibility across different projects. From warehouses around Perth to schools throughout regional New South Wales, these cabinets are built with practical use in mind.

- Constructed from durable materials suited to Australian conditions
- Designed to house hose reels, extinguishers and related fire equipment
- Options for recessed or wall mounted installation
- Clear viewing panels available for fast equipment identification
- Finishes that suit commercial and industrial environments

1300 847 901

www.fspaaustralia.com.au

Choose a Partner That Delivers Practical Safety Solutions

Selecting a supplier for any fire cabinet means looking beyond appearance. FSP Oz Products focuses on compliance, durability and straightforward installation. The team works closely with contractors, architects and site managers to supply cabinets that meet project specifications without confusion or delay.

Each cabinet is produced with consistent quality control, giving confidence across large developments and single site upgrades alike. From metropolitan Melbourne to remote mining operations in Western Australia, the approach remains steady and dependable.

- Australian made products built for commercial and industrial projects
- Reliable supply for both small orders and larger developments
- Clear product information to support correct specification
- Responsive service that supports project timelines

Take The Next Step Towards Safer Facilities

Review the full fire cabinet range and project details through FSP Oz Products online at and secure dependable protection for your site. Get in touch with our team today to discuss your requirements or request a quote for your project. Equip your facilities with the best in fire safety protection and ensure you're prepared for any emergency.