On any work site, clear boundaries save lives. Whether it is a mine, a warehouse, a construction zone, or a public event, having the right safety barriers in place keeps workers protected and bystanders at a safe distance. FSP Oz Products manufactures a practical range of heavy duty plastic safety barriers designed for exactly these situations. These barriers are also used for crowd control and event management, making them a versatile product that serves well beyond traditional industrial settings, and a single person can set them up or reposition them without needing extra hands.

How Our Safety Barriers Perform on the Job

Worksites across Australia deal with real hazards every day. From heavy machinery to excavation work and hazardous chemicals, some areas simply need to be closed off. FSP Oz Products' plastic safety barriers are built from heavy duty polyethylene and are UV-stabilised, so they hold up in outdoor environments without fading or cracking over time. You can connect multiple barriers together to fit any space you need to block off.

- Made from heavy duty polyethylene, UV-stabilised for outdoor use
- Lightweight enough for a single person to carry and set up
- Can be joined in various configurations using the locking loop at each end
- Plastic swivel feet make stacking and transport straightforward
- Highly visible appearance that does not fade like paint does
- Backed by a 15-year guarantee
- Suitable for mining, warehouses, construction, crowd control, and more
