

Easy Styling with Hanging Plants Outdoor and Indoor Spaces

When you choose outdoor hanging plants from Designer Plants, you're choosing convenience without giving up on style.

 sales@designerplants.com.au

 www.designerplants.com.au

When we started working on our recycled plant pots, the idea was to keep things practical. Pots are something you use every day, so they need to look good without being difficult to manage. At Designer Plants, we've kept the designs clean and easy to place, so they work in different spaces without much effort.

Whether it's a small corner indoors or a larger outdoor setup, the right pot helps bring everything together. Our recycled plant pots are made to sit naturally in a space without drawing too much attention, while still adding structure and balance.

Designed for Everyday Use

We've built our recycled plant pots around how people actually use them. They need to be easy to move, simple to match, and reliable over time. That's what we've focused on across the range.

The shapes are straightforward, and the finishes don't feel overdone. This makes it easier to pair them with different plants and styles without overthinking the setup.

- Made using recycled materials
- Suitable for both indoor and outdoor use
- Lightweight but stable once placed
- Easy to mix with different plant styles
- Everything is designed to feel simple and usable.

Why Our Recycled Plant Pots Work

When you choose recycled plant pots from Designer Plants, you're choosing something that fits into your space without extra effort.

- Consistent quality across the range
- Designs that don't go out of style
- Practical for everyday setups
- Suitable for homes, offices, and outdoor areas

We keep things straightforward so you can focus on setting up your space the way you want.

Thank You

sales@designerplants.com.au

www.designerplants.com.au